ROSE 2014

from "Domaine de la Castille" Provence, France

Domaine de La Castille is an independent wine-growing vineyard in Côtes de Provence. Ideally located in the sunny South East of France between Marseille and Saint-Tropez (Côte d'Azur). La Castille is a haven of peace in the heart of Provence, close to the coast, not far from the picturesque island of Porquerolles. The estate's 18th century castle is a reminder that the 160 ha domain benefits from an enduring heritage from hundreds of years of wine-making, dating back as far as over two thousand years ago when the Romans set foot on the Côte d'Azur.

GRAPES:

80% Grenache
20% Cinsault

ALCOHOL: 12.5°

SOIL: Gravoche Limestone.

CLIMATE: Temperate Mediterranean. North-East exposition.

WINE MAKING

- Direct pressing and cold debourbage.
- Separate vinification at controlled temperature (17°C) for 7-10 days.
- Assemblage in December.

TASTING NOTES

Racy and crispy with an elegant pale pink color. The attack is powerful and the mouth fruity, nicely rounded. The lively finish offers a refreshing feeling.

Perfect as an aperitif it will also accompany any light, provincial-style dish, pizza or pasta. It has a floral and fruity side to it, light and lively, slightly acidic that allows it, in some cases, to replace a white wine.
